Clarification, Classification, and Connection

We need to clarify desires, to classify them into possible and impossible, and to connect ourselves to a goal.

All of our work is in clarification, classification, and connection, i.e., clarification in what the Kelim (vessels, desires) are and what the attributes within them are, whether they are attributes of reception or attributes of bestowal. And then the work is to classify the things I can correct and the things that I cannot correct, and to do that with the help of the group, dissemination, and adhering to things that I cannot change. Connection is my connection to the group, to studies, to dissemination, the Creator, and to remember what is it all for.
