Before the Time

Correction through the Light is faster than through suffering. We need to disseminate this to the world.

Nature is one system in which all its details influence each other. We need to hope that humanity will feel that soon. It depends on the recognition of evil that comes to them by either suffering or with the help of the wisdom of Kabbalah.

According to what I now see, we are given the possibility to disseminate the wisdom of Kabbalah. It's a sign that we are being directed from Above and that we will reach correction by the way of good, not under the pressure of sufferings, wars, and beatings. That direction is quite clear.

The way of Light is shorter, of course, "before the time." Indeed, we don't see that the world is awakening and responding, but we need to invest even more in dissemination since in that way everything will operate faster and in a more effective way than the way of suffering.
